

The background of the entire image is a silhouette of a person's head and shoulders, facing right. Inside the silhouette, there is a vibrant sunset or sunrise scene with a bright sun low on the horizon, casting a warm orange and yellow glow. The sky is filled with soft, wispy clouds. The overall composition suggests a theme of introspection and the subconscious mind.

Carl Jung's

My Archetype

Shanmugapriya Kanesan

What is an Archetype?

Embarking on a journey through the realm of Jungian archetypes is akin to setting out on an odyssey into the depths of the collective unconscious—a domain where ancient wisdom intertwines with modern understanding, and where myths, symbols, and dreams converge to illuminate the hidden corners of our minds (Pearson, 1991).

Through the lens of transpersonal psychology, we recognize that within each individual resides a myriad of archetypal forces, shaping our thoughts, emotions, and behaviours in ways both subtle and profound (Corr & Matthews, 2009). As therapists, our task is not merely to decode these archetypal patterns, but to empower our clients to embrace the full spectrum of their humanity, to reconcile the disparate aspects of their psyche, and to embark on a journey of integration and self-actualization (Pearson, 1991).

At its essence, an archetype is more than just a symbol or a recurring motif; it is a primordial pattern deeply ingrained in the collective unconscious of humanity (Jung, 1990; Mills, 2018). Jungian archetypes represent universal themes, motifs, or symbols that evoke a profound emotional response and hold deep significance across cultures and generations (Jung, 1964). These archetypal patterns manifest in myths, fairy tales, dreams, and even in the narratives of our everyday lives, serving as the building blocks of our collective human experience.

Archetypes are universal, recurring patterns that represent fundamental human behaviours and motivations, often found in stories, myths, and dreams across cultures. They serve as the fundamental blueprints of the human psyche, shaping our perceptions, behaviours, and relationships in ways both conscious and unconscious (Mills, 2018). They are the ancient guardians of our deepest truths and desires, whispering to us from the depths of our unconscious minds. Whether it be the hero embarking on a quest, the wise sage offering guidance, or the shadow lurking in the depths of the psyche, archetypes permeate every aspect of human existence, offering us a glimpse into the timeless mysteries of the human soul (Jung, 1990; Pearson, 1991).

Jung's 12 Archetypes

Jung's 12 Archetypes:

1. The Innocent 🌿

Goal: Be happy, find safety and peace.

Strengths: Optimistic, pure, kind.

Weaknesses: Naive, avoids conflict.

2. The Everyman (Orphan) 🤝

Goal: Belong, be relatable.

Strengths: Grounded, dependable, loyal.

Weaknesses: Can lack individuality, fear of standing out.

3. The Hero 🗡️

Goal: Prove worth, make a difference.

Strengths: Courageous, determined, strong.

Weaknesses: Fear of failure, arrogance.

4. The Caregiver ❤️

Goal: Help others, nurture.

Strengths: Compassionate, selfless, supportive.

Weaknesses: Overextends, neglects self-care.

5. The Explorer 🌍

Goal: Seek adventure, discover new things.

Strengths: Curious, independent, open-minded.

Weaknesses: Restless, commitment issues.

6. The Rebel (Outlaw) 🔥

Goal: Challenge authority, create change.

Strengths: Bold, unconventional, transformative.

Weaknesses: Can be destructive, rebellious for the sake of it.

7. The Lover 💕

Goal: Build relationships, find passion.

Strengths: Charismatic, devoted, emotional.

Weaknesses: Can lose self in others, overly romanticized.

8. The Creator 🎨

Goal: Express themselves, create something meaningful.

Strengths: Imaginative, innovative, artistic.

Weaknesses: Perfectionist, impractical.

9. The Jester 🤡

Goal: Bring joy, live in the moment.

Strengths: Fun-loving, spontaneous, entertaining.

Weaknesses: Can be irresponsible, avoids seriousness.

10. The Sage 🧠

Goal: Seek truth, wisdom, and knowledge.

Strengths: Analytical, insightful, thoughtful.

Weaknesses: Can overthink, struggle with action.

11. The Magician 🜂

Goal: Transform, inspire change.

Strengths: Visionary, charismatic, intuitive.

Weaknesses: Can manipulate, be secretive.

12. The Ruler 👑

Goal: Create order, lead with authority.

Strengths: Responsible, powerful, strategic.

Weaknesses: Controlling, fear of losing power.

Here are the primary archetypes that define you:

1. The Mentor/Teacher 🧑🏫

You naturally guide, educate, and inspire others.

Your passion for coaching, leadership, and education aligns with this archetype.

Your ability to simplify complex topics makes you an excellent communicator.

2. The Visionary/Leader 🌟

You have a strong leadership drive and a desire to create meaningful change.

Your belief in education, sustainability, and healthy food access shows your future-oriented mindset.

You see the bigger picture and enjoy end-to-end processes involving people.

3. The Creator/Artist 🎵

Your love for music, writing, and speaking makes you a creative force.

You express ideas through artistic or intellectual means.

You might integrate music, storytelling, or creative techniques into leadership and education.

4. The Caregiver/Nurturer 🌱

You are deeply compassionate and want to help children and teenagers.

You care about people's well-being, education, and sustainable living.

Your coaching and people skills show your natural ability to nurture growth in others.

5. The Explorer/Seeker

You have a deep curiosity about the mind, nature, and technology.

You enjoy discovering new ideas, systems, and possibilities.

Your interest in banking, technology, and innovation shows your drive to explore new frontiers.

What This Means for You

Your archetypes suggest that your ideal role involves teaching, leading, creating, and inspiring people—especially in education, leadership, and sustainable initiatives. You thrive when you're helping others grow, building meaningful projects, and integrating creativity with knowledge.

Here are several archetype systems, but one of the most well-known is Carl Jung's 12 Archetypes. These are universal personality patterns that shape our motivations, behaviors, and purpose.

Your Archetypes Based on Your Answers:

- Mentor (Sage + Teacher) – You love coaching, education, and wisdom.
- Visionary (Magician + Ruler) – You see the big picture, lead, and inspire.
- Creator (Artist + Innovator) – You love music, writing, and creative expression.
- Caregiver (Helper + Guide) – You are passionate about helping children and others grow.
- Explorer (Seeker + Adventurer) – You are curious about the mind, technology, and new ideas.

Brand Archetype

The Magician

The Magician wants to make your dreams come true. They are the visionaries, inventors, charismatic leaders, and healers. They develop a vision and live by it.

The Hero

The Hero wants to prove one's worth through courageous acts and believe where there's a will there's a way. They are the warrior, superhero, and winner.

The Outlaw

The Outlaw wants to overturn what isn't working and believes rules are meant to be broken. They are the rebel, misfit, and revolutionary. They seek revenge.

The Explorer

The Explorer wants to experience a more authentic, fulfilling life in true freedom. They are ambitious and seek newness. They are the wanderer and individualist.

The Sage

The Sage wants to use statistics and data to understand the world. They believe the truth will set you free and hate ignorance. They are the scholar, thinker, and teacher.

The Innocent

The Innocent wants to be happy and ultimately get to paradise. They like to do things right and values faith and optimism. They are the dreamer, mystic, and saint.

The Lover

The Lover wants to be in a relationship with people, their work, and their surroundings. They value intimacy and experience. They are the friend, team builder, and partner.

The Jester

The Jester wants to have a great time and bring joy to the world. Their motto is 'you only live once' and hate wasting time. They are the trickster, joker, and comedian.

The Everyman

The Everyman wants to belong and connect with others. They are down to earth and have great empathy. They are the good neighbor, solid citizen, and the good ol' boy.

The Caregiver

The Caregiver wants to help by keeping others protected and cared for. They love being generous and has great compassion. They are the helper and supporter.

The Ruler

The Ruler wants to create a prosperous community for their family. They believe power is the greatest asset. They are the boss, leader, king, politician, and model.

The Creator

The Creator wants to bring a vision to life using their artistic skill set. They value creativity and imagination. They are the artist, inventor, writer, and musician.

Shanmugapriya Kanesan

Based on your top three archetypes—The Mentor (Sage/Teacher), The Visionary (Magician/Ruler), and The Creator (Artist/Innovator)—here's a unique brand archetype for you:

Your Brand Archetype: "The Visionary Mentor"

Tagline: Inspiring Minds, Transforming Futures

Core Identity:

You are a transformational leader, educator, and creator who uses knowledge, leadership, and creativity to inspire and guide others. Your brand revolves around wisdom, innovation, and empowerment, blending education, leadership, and creative expression.

Brand Personality & Voice:

- Wise & Inspirational – You provide deep insights that challenge perspectives and foster growth.
- Empowering & Transformational – You guide others toward self-improvement and leadership.
- Creative & Expressive – You use storytelling, music, or innovative ideas to communicate complex messages.
- Authentic & Visionary – You bring new ways of thinking, always looking ahead to shape the future.

Core Values:

- ✓ Knowledge & Wisdom
- ✓ Leadership & Empowerment
- ✓ Creativity & Innovation
- ✓ Growth & Transformation
- ✓ Purpose & Meaning

Industries That Fit Your Archetype:

- Education & Coaching (Leadership training, teaching, mentorship)
- Personal Development (Self-improvement, mindset coaching, LOA workshops)
- Creative Expression (Music, writing, speaking)
- Tech & Innovation (EdTech, banking & fintech solutions)
- Sustainability & Social Impact (Education access, environmental change)

Brand Archetype in Action:

- Speaking & Coaching: You could develop a leadership coaching business or music-based education platform.
- Writing & Thought Leadership: You might write a book, start a blog, or launch a YouTube channel to share wisdom.
- Technology & Innovation: You could explore how education and leadership can be transformed through tech (e.g., digital courses, AI-driven mentorship).
- Social Impact: You might advocate for educational access and sustainability, aligning your brand with purpose-driven initiatives.

SWOT Analysis for Your Brand Archetype (The Visionary Mentor)

Based on your top three archetypes (The Mentor (Sage/Teacher), The Visionary (Magician/Ruler), and The Creator (Artist/Innovator)), here's a SWOT analysis to help you understand your strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats:

● Strengths (Internal Advantages)

- ✓ Wisdom & Deep Knowledge – You excel in teaching, coaching, and simplifying complex topics.
- ✓ Strong Communication & Leadership Skills – You are a natural leader, speaker, and mentor.
- ✓ Creativity & Innovation – You think outside the box, blending creativity with practical solutions.
- ✓ Empowering & Transformational – Your ability to inspire and guide people makes you highly influential.
- ✓ Purpose-Driven & Visionary – You see the bigger picture and aim to create lasting change.

● Weaknesses (Internal Challenges)

- ✗ Perfectionism & High Standards – You might overanalyze or delay action, striving for "perfect" results.
- ✗ Wearing Too Many Hats – You have diverse interests (education, leadership, music, tech), which could make it hard to focus.
- ✗ Emotional Investment – You deeply care about people and causes, which can lead to burnout if not managed.
- ✗ Difficulty Monetizing Passion – Your purpose-driven nature might make it challenging to turn passion into profit.

🟡 Opportunities (External Possibilities)

- ✅ Growing Demand for Leadership & Coaching – More people seek mentorship, coaching, and self-improvement.
- ✅ Online Education & Digital Business – You can reach a global audience through online courses, content creation, or EdTech.
- ✅ Blending Tech & Education – Innovations like AI, VR, and e-learning are transforming education and leadership training.
- ✅ Sustainability & Social Impact Trends – Your focus on education, environment, and wellness aligns with global concerns.
- ✅ Speaking & Thought Leadership – You can build authority through public speaking, workshops, and writing.

🟡 Threats (External Challenges)

- ⚠️ Market Saturation in Coaching & Education – Many people are entering the coaching/teaching space, making differentiation key.
- ⚠️ Fast-Changing Technology – The need to keep up with tech advancements in education and business.
- ⚠️ Balancing Passion & Profitability – Ensuring your ventures are financially sustainable while staying purpose-driven.
- ⚠️ Time & Energy Management – Handling multiple interests while maintaining personal well-being.

Strategic Takeaways for You:

1. Leverage Your Strengths – Focus on education, leadership, and creativity-driven solutions to inspire and empower others.
2. Overcome Weaknesses – Narrow down your niche to avoid spreading yourself too thin. Find ways to balance purpose with profitability.
3. Seize Opportunities – Create an online education platform, leadership training business, or impact-driven coaching program.
4. Mitigate Threats – Differentiate yourself through your unique blend of wisdom, leadership, and creativity, staying ahead of trends.

One of the most unique aspects of you—something you might not fully realize—is your rare fusion of wisdom, leadership, and artistic creativity in a way that naturally inspires people.

What Makes You Stand Out?

- ♦ You are both a deep thinker and a natural leader – Most people excel at either wisdom (Sage) or leadership (Ruler), but you combine both with ease. You don't just have knowledge—you know how to apply it to guide and influence others.
- ♦ You blend logic and intuition – You have a structured, strategic mind (banking, technology, leadership) but also an intuitive, creative soul (music, education, nature). This balance is rare and makes you adaptable in many fields.
- ♦ You inspire and transform, not just teach – Many people educate, but few have the ability to truly ignite transformation in others. You don't just share knowledge—you change the way people think and empower them to take action.
- ♦ You can turn abstract ideas into reality – Your ability to see the big picture, combined with strong execution skills, makes you a visionary doer rather than just a dreamer. This is a major strength in leadership and entrepreneurship.

Your Hidden Superpower:

💡 You have the potential to create a movement—not just a business or career. Whether in education, leadership, sustainability, or music, you have the ability to rally people around a cause and make real change happen.

